over the trackless past, somewhere—
lie the lost days of our youth.

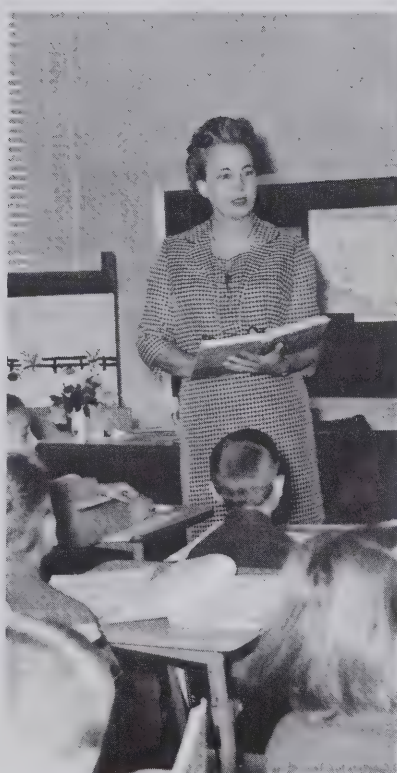

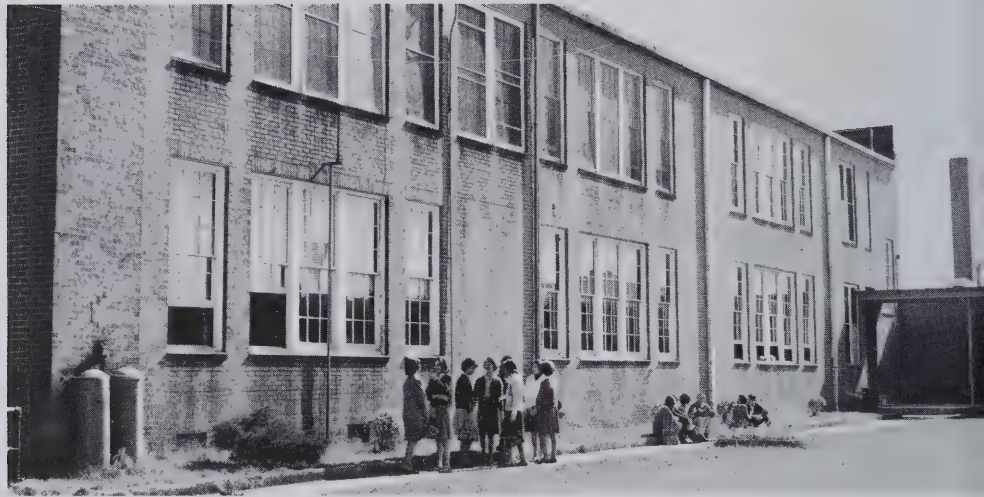

We, the editors, have felt the need to make the 1967 CHOWAN CHIEF different, not simply for the sake of originality, not even to be controversial. Repetitious yearbooks of the past have brought on such boredom, that we thought it was time people sat up and took notice!

Trite copy has been eliminated; thus, allowing pictures to take on individual meaning for each person. A picture itself should be worth a thousand words; therefore, posed pictures have been replaced by candid and informal shots that tell their own story of Chowan school life and its moods.

We hope this yearbook will have significant meaning for you. If it has aroused anyone in anyway, we have accomplished our goal.
